DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Napolitano (6,981,011).

Napolitano discloses in figure 4 a method for generating complex sinusoids of a desired frequency comprising the steps of successively multiplying (450) a current phasor ( $s[n-1]$ ) by a predetermined value (Delta phasor) once every sampling interval to create a next phasor ( $s[n]$ ); and compensating (590) for cumulative round-off error occurring with the next phasors as claimed .

Art Unit: 2193

4. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Napolitano (6,981,011).

It is noted that Napolitano does not specifically disclose the sampling rate at least twice the desired frequency. However, this feature is well known in the art, and would have obvious in order to prevent aliasing.

5. Claims 1-8 and 10-15 are allowed.

6. Claims 18 and 19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Applicant's arguments filed 07/24/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive with respect to claims 16 and 20. It is respectfully submitted that Napolitano discloses in figure 4 a next phasor ( $s[n]$ ) obtained by multiplying a previous phasor ( $s[n-1]$ ) by a predetermined value (Delta phasor). Therefore, Napolitano clearly teaches successively multiplying a first phasor by a predetermined value once every sampling interval (corresponding to each loop) as claimed when high accuracy is not required.

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2193

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
